BURGLARY OF A DWELLING

Detective Gus Aime of the Bay St. Louis Police Department reported Wednesday the arrest Tuesday of one suspect on a charge of burglary of a dwelling.

Aime said Detective David Parker, Patrolman Shane Corr and Sheriff's Department Auxiliary Deputy Anthony Alexis made the arrest at 808 Hancock St. after Alexis reported around 7:40 p.m. that suspicious activity had been seen at the residence.

While investigating the scene, Corr and Alexis found that one window of the dwelling was open and another was broken. Aime

Kiln Fire Protection District asks to provide gas service

BY TRACI BONNEY

County residents may have access to natural gas, pending legislative approval.

If either one of two bills introduced in the House and Senate pass, Kiln Fire Protection District will have the authority to provide natural gas service for its customers.

A general bill passed this week in the Senate. It was introduced by Sen. Vic Frankiewicz at the request of the district's board of commissioners, who he said wanted to provide a service currently unavailable to most residents outside the city limits of Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

Rep. J.P. Compretta introduced a local and private bill for the same purpose. Frankiewicz said that the House would most likely consider both bills, in case one dies for some reason.

Fire district board attorney Michael Haas, speaking on behalf of board chairman Cleveland Wyatt, who could not be reached for comment, said the board recently passed a resolution requesting that legislation be passed allowing the district to provide natural gas service.

Port and Harbor Commission grounds Stewart Flying Service

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission approved a resolution Monday by Commissioner Pete Beebe to send Roy Stewart of Stewart Flying Service a letter ordering him to "cease and desist" from operating at Stennis Air Park.

The commission was informed that the flying school and leasing service had been operating out of the Experimental Aircraft Association (EAA) building on Port and Harbor property.

According to the commissioners, the building is rented to EAA and sub-leasing is not permitted.

"No one has approached this board for permission," added commissioner Dave McDonald.

The board agreed should Stewart ignore the commission's order to stop operations, the sheriff's department would be called in for assistance.

The commission awarded the engineering contract for infrastructure work at the Calgon site in Port Bienville Industrial Park to Cortech, Inc., after lengthy discussion on exactly what work was promised to Calgon and what was not promised as part of the final contracts.

The commission is applying for an Economic Development

Authority (EDA) grant from the federal government which is expected to provide for half of the $800,000 need to complete the infrastructure work.

The infrastructure work will include a water system, a sewage collection system, a service railroad track and effluent line for treated industrial water discharge.

Gill net regulation bill passes state House vote

BY TRACI BONNEY

For local resident Jim Maness, a three-year struggle may soon come to an end.

Maness, who has fought to bring about regulation of gill netting and trammel netting in the Bay of St. Louis, may see a dream become reality if a bill in the state legislature passes in the Senate. A committee substitute for House Bill 1106 garnered the unanimous approval of 120 state Representatives earlier this week. Now the bill must face a Senate vote.

Maness is delighted with the bill's approval by the House. "If it passes in the Senate, I'll go berserk," he said.

The bill, put onto the "non-controversial docket" by a committee chaired by J.P. Compretta, gives local boards of supervisors the authority to regulate the use of gill and trammel nets, and also dictates the distances such nets must be from the mouths of rivers, bayous, creeks, canals, streams, tributaries, lakes, bays, inlets or other water sources.

"My main purpose in trying to do something about this was to ensure the safety and enjoyment of the bay by kids swimming in it, people using the beaches and tourists camping out or boating," Maness commented.

Compretta said, "The boards of supervisors have requested this, and I'm glad we were able to get it passed and send it on to the Senate. I hope it passes in the Senate, because it will give some much-needed relief to the supervisors and law enforcement agencies where this is concerned."

Maness said Sen. Vic Frankiewicz has helped in the Senate on the issue. Frankiewicz commented, "The bill is a good one because it gives unilateral authority to the supervisors to regulate gill netters. However, I also want to make sure it's fair to those commercial gill netters who are piece by piece.

No one volunteered to be the salesperson, so it was agreed that one purchase as scrap would be the quickest method of disposal.

Recommendations by the Planning and Zoning Commission were approved along with permission to hold a public hearing on proposed amendments to subdivision regulations at city hall on February 25

County reports bomb threat to state, federal authorities

BY TRACI BONNEY

Hancock County has sent its first CIVSITREP.

The county Civil Defense Office made use last week of the Civilian Situation Report given to local officials by state and federal authorities in a Jackson meeting recently. This report is used in the case of possible Gulf War-related or other terrorist activity, any unusual or potentially threatening occurrence — in this case, a bomb threat.

Sheriff Ronald Peterson said his office completed a CIVSITREP last week following the investigation of a bomb threat at G.E. Plastics January 31 at approximately 6:50 a.m.

Peterson said a phone call reporting the presence of a bomb in the Port Bienville Industrial Park plant led to the evacuation of the facility by Sheriff's Department deputies and agents from the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Bureau. After a two-hour interruption, no bomb was found and regular plant activity resumed, he added.

"We do not believe the bomb threat is in any way related to any terrorist activity. However, we're required to turn in a report on any activity that is out of the ordinary, so we turned in a report to the Civil Defense office, which will send it on to the state," Peterson said.

Civil Defense Director Bobby Boudin said the report has been sent to the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency, which will send the CIVSITREP to its national counterpart, the Federal Emergency Management Agency. FEMA will direct a copy of the CIVSITREP to the FBI for its use in studying possible terrorist activity patterns.

Monsignor Robert Guste to conduct OLG mission

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church will sponsor a Spiritual Renewal Mission which will feature Msgr. Robert Guste of the Archdiocese of New Orleans, Feb. 17 through 21.

"Open the Door to the Redeemer," the mission theme, will begin each evening at 7:30 and will be directed to all ages, including young adults, teenagers and upper grade elementary school children.

It is aimed at deepening the life of practicing Catholics but will also appeal to those who no longer attend church services. The Mass will be celebrated each evening during the mission except Wednesday. Non-Catholics are invited to attend.

A noted author of two books including "Mary at My Side," which speaks of his personal testimony of discovering the meaning and value of devotion to Mary, the Blessed Mother, in the Christian life, Father Guste is also an extensive traveler of the United States, Canada, Europe, Africa, Latin America and the Holy Land.

He served and taught in East Malaysia and has since been engaged in many movements for spiritual renewal including the Christian Family Movement, the Cursillo Movement, the Third Order of Mount Carmel, the Jesus Caritas Fraternity of Priests and the Catholic Charismatic Renewal Movement.

A member of an old New Orleans family which has been involved in the religious, civic and cultural life of that city, Father Guste has served in a number of parishes in the archdiocese for 32 years of his priesthood.

His community involvements have included writing on behalf of the Interracial Justice and Correction Reform, serving on the board of Central City Economic Opportunity Corporation and chairman of the task force on Criminal Justice of the Louisiana Inter-Church Conference, of which he is still a member.

Father Guste is currently in a full-time ministry of preaching and spiritual renewal. His ministry involves giving parish missions, retreats, days of renewal and healing services.

The OLG mission schedule includes topics developed around relationships with Our Lord at the center of our lives and the new life of prayer, community and service that flow from Him.

The Sacrament of Reconciliation will be offered following the Wednesday service.

KILLING TIME

By Traci Bonney

Springing into spring

Here's an update for everyone who has asked me about my brother Bob in Saudi Arabia: He's alive (at least, he was as of his phone call to his wife Jennifer last week); he's in good spirits; and he just had his first shower in three weeks.

With that out of the way, on to the topic of this week's column: spring.

I know it's only February, but the weather the past couple of days has definitely been springish.

Spring is one of my favorite times of the year. The flowers are in bloom; the weather is generally gorgeous; and the temperature is mild enough to open the windows.

beautiful day. I'd rather be enjoying a picnic under a shady tree, or maybe reading a book (probably under the same shady tree). And of course, there's always the beach.

I like going to the beach, but I don't go when most people do. I don't like crowds, so going at the height of the tourist season is out. I'm not a sun bunny; my pale skin doesn't enjoy being broiled. So going during the hottest hours of the day is also out.

I like to go to the beach in the early morning or late afternoon, when it isn't quite as hot, but a warm breeze is still blowing. I'm not much for swimsuits, but I do like to wander around on the sand wearing a comfortable t-shirt and shorts.

My main object in going to the beach is finding seashells, so spring is the best time of the year to go. The tourists haven't yet robbed the sand of all its treasures, so I may find something interesting.

I guess my favorite thing about spring, though, is that the weight of winter seems to dissolve as the season changes. I know it's a psychological matter, or maybe an emotional one, but the feeling is strong, no matter what its source.

In Mississippi the seasons are a little strange, as anyone who's lived here a while knows. We can have a week of spring or even summer in the middle of January. Christmas Day might call for shorts or sweaters, and robins in the snow are a common sight in the northern part of the state during late winter.

But quirky as the weather here can be, I'm enjoying our February spring. I hope it lasts long enough for all you lovebirds out there to have a romantic Valentine's Day picnic if you're so inclined.

Me, I'll be putting around the apartment today, probably with the glass door and windows open. I may even do a little spring cleaning.

On second thought ...

There's a freshness in the air in springtime that you don't feel any other time of year, and the sunshine — well, it's a bit difficult to describe. I just think having a pretty spring day off is one of the biggest treats in the world. I open the blinds and the windows, slide back the glass door, and just putter around the apartment.

There's a contentedness that comes over you when you have a day like that. You can take things at your own pace, do only what you feel like doing. It's a rare occurrence in my life, and one I savor.

On a good day, even the worst packrat may be moved to indulge in a bit of spring cleaning. I ought to know; I'm beginning to feel the urge to purge my closet and drawers of all the stuff I've accumulated.

Spring does have its drawbacks, however. I have a hard time concentrating on work on a

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

It was good to witness the ground breaking festivities at Hancock County's newest industry, Calgon Carbon's Pearl River Plant at Port Bienville, last Thursday.

The new facility which is expected to be completed at the end of this year is scheduled to have some 60 employees with some 56 of them going to area residents. We sure can use new jobs to help our economy, and I am hoping other opportunities will also be forthcoming. I know our Port & Harbor director and commissioners are always seeking new industries for the area to provide new jobs.

I am sure we will be hearing a lot of things about Calgon Carbon in the years to come.

On Saturday, March 9, and this isn't too far off, the new Hancock High School will be sponsoring an indoor Arts & Crafts Festival.

The festivities will be held at the new school located on Stennis Drive next to the Hancock County Airpark and will run from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

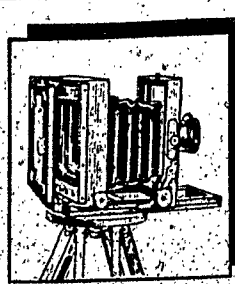

There are a lot of folks interested in arts and crafts in the area, some are vendors, while others like to browse and purchase things they like, including some good foods.

Some 100 vendors are expected. If you are interested in a booth, call 467-9866 or 467-5891 for further information.

FEBRUARY 12, 1981

Hancock County has had almost one foot of rainfall in February alone. A heavy rainfall this week ended almost a two-month drought which prompted hundreds of woods fires and numerous structural blazes locally. Hancock and Harrison counties were under a tornado watch from 4 a.m. to 10 a.m. Tuesday and a flash flood watch all day Tuesday.

For the first time in over 20 years oil rigs soon again may be seen in Bay St. Louis and Mississippi Sound of Hancock and west Harrison County's shorelines. The Mineral Lease Division of the State Department of Natural Resources recently proposed leasing several blocks of submerged stateowned lands from Pass Christian and extending to East Pearl River.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Taylor unjustly criticized for voting his beliefs

Dear Editor,

In reference to all the letters complaining about Congressman Taylor's vote in Congress, I'd like to express my feelings.

Congressman Taylor had the courage to stand up for what he felt was right. I was one who called for our country not to go to war. I am sure there are many more good Americans who certainly did not want a war. We are, of course, 100 percent behind our service people, as is Congressman Taylor.

My Dad was Navy, World War II; five uncles, World War II "in action," Army, Navy; brother, peace-time Air Force; brother, Vietnam veteran; cousins, Vietnam, wounded; still bear the scars today.

I was very much against jumping into a war. That does not mean I don't support each and everyone of our troops. I also have a grandson and cousin in Saudi Arabia, plus a grandson in training. I did not want to see them in a war.

We finally have a good honest politician who will stand up for us in Washington, who will vote his beliefs for the good of the people.

There are a lot of us good Americans who didn't want a war. That doesn't make us bad.

I have never met or spoken to Congressman Taylor. I voted for him, I believe in him, and I will vote for him again! I cannot for the life of me understand why anyone would give him a hard time because he voted his beliefs and the beliefs of many other good Americans.

Don't you want someone who will stand up for us, the people of this great country? What about the unsafe equipment our troops are using because of unfeeling and uncaring politicians? Is that really what you want? Wake up and realize we need good men like Congressman Taylor who will stand up for us. Don't fault him for being a caring person. I for one wish we had many more good men like him.

Sincerely,
Dorothy Campanali

Dept. of Agriculture asks restrictions on Saudi mail

Dear Editor,

The Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service has been informed by the United States Department of Agriculture that voluntary restrictions are being placed on shipments to Saudi Arabia.

They have asked that mail to the armed forces in Saudi Arabia be restricted to only letters and video cassettes. Therefore, shipments of food in any form should be suspended.

Thank you for your support in spreading this message.

Middle East war is immoral, not justified

To the Editor,

I do not like to write this letter since I will seem critical of the hundreds of concerned citizens who gathered for the Support our Troops Day!

It is not meant to be a letter of criticism, for in reality, I support our men and women in Operation Desert Storm. I would like to see a bumper sticker which states: "Support Our Troops—Bring Them Back Alive!"

While the polls show over 80 percent of the American people in favor of this war, that does not mean it is justified or moral. There is a Scripture verse in Exodus 23:22, which states: "Thou shalt not follow a multitude to do evil." I believe that also means: "Thou shalt not follow national leaders who lead their people in an immoral war."

The Saturday support gathering was a patriotic spectacle to stir the heart. But how many of the people who attended really know why we are at war? How many of them, who are risking their sons and daughters there, know why they are there? Very few!

Not to take anything away from the stirring speech made by Commander Jack O. Moody that "forty years of mincing words seem to have deluded us.

We seem to think that war can't touch us." With this I agree!

But when he stated that the Iraq dictator Saddam Hussein has reminded us that this nation is not immune from the effects of this war; and that we are not there, risking the lives of our young men and women for oil, he was stating an observable untruth, whether he knew it or not.

Moody went on in the vein of popular Madison Avenue war propaganda, to say that Hussein is a threat to the security of every nation in the Middle East, and that the United States MUST make this an American war. Folks, he is dead wrong!

He went on to say that we could not stand by "while the armed subjugation of one country after another occurs." This is an observable untruth.

Where was Mr. Bush when Gorbachev's tanks rolled into Lithuania? Where were we, when China slaughtered over 3,000 of their dissident students?

Where were we when Cuba invaded Angola? Where were our national morals then? In each of these countries, in spite of the statement that we cannot allow this to happen, we have stood silently by while it did.

Too much media coverage is given anti-war protesters

Dear Editor:

At a time when the men and women in our armed forces are facing their greatest test, we at home are facing a test as well. Our test is to maintain our unity and resolve, as our troops are doing in the Persian Gulf.

We don't want Saddam Hussein to take this country's tolerance for anti-war demonstrators as a signal he should wait out our resolve in a long and bloody war.

I'm outraged at the brutal treatment of our POW's. And I'm saddened to see the media give so much attention to the small number of anti-war protesters who have sprung into action. It seems that every time a few protesters pick up their signs, the cameras swarm around them, and they end up on the news.

Our soldiers have said they have a job to do and are going to get it done. I feel I have a job to do, too. And that's to stand up in strong support of our troops.

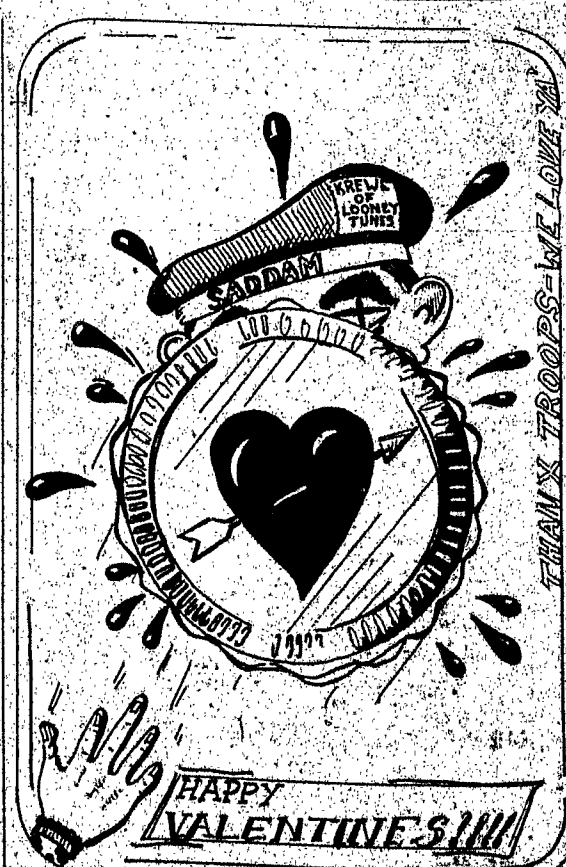

I want them to know that I and the American people are very proud of them. We are all inspired by their bravery.

I hope that you'll print my letter, and others like it, in the days ahead. Thousands of local American newspapers are reaching our men and women in uniform every day. Your newspaper may be one of them. I want the troops to know that we hold them in our thoughts and prayers every day.

Sincerely,
Phillip Kies

Why? The answer is that it was profitable for us to do so.

More and more evidence is surfacing continuously, which shows that this Middle East war has been in the planning stage for at least ten years.

As early as 1973, the United States had adopted a policy, in which we were to find, or more likely, to invent, some pretext for launching major forces into the Persian Gulf region and effectively seize control of the Arab oil fields.

In fact, Zionist advisors in our State Department argued the United States MUST throw aside its inhibitions about armed intervention into other people's countries and said that we needed a definite plan of attack. They favored a preemptive strike into the Gulf.

The stage was set, after our ambassador, April Glaspie, told Hussein, five days before his invasion, that the United States would not interfere in any Arab-Arab conflict. Hussein took the bait laid out by our national planners, and we now find ourselves in a war we cannot win; military victory, of course, over a little nation smaller than most of our states.

But even when we win, we will lose in every other respect, just as we did in Korea and Vietnam.

Is this what you want our sons and daughters to die for? I dare you to look into the backgrounds of this war and still say it is moral and justified!

Am I therefore to become your enemy, because I tell you the truth? I have served in World War II, Korea and Vietnam, as a combat commander. I have four Purple hearts to prove this. But I also remember that for 45 years our government has told us that we were the only force that stood against world communism.

Using this argument, they have drained our national wealth of hundreds of billions for defense against this enemy. Yet on at least 14 major occasions, when the Soviet Union has been on the edge of economic collapse, it was your and my government which set them on their feet again, using your and my tax dollars. Aren't you getting tired of being used? Or don't you care?

Theodore Roosevelt once said that we must back the government to the same degree that they obey the Constitution. Our President is not obeying the Constitution, and our "yes men" in the Congress haven't had the guts to stand up against him and his desire for the new world order. Isn't it about time that Americans regain that virtue known as "righteous indignation" which is the ability to see something "wrong" and the "guts" to do something about it?

Commission attorney Robert Genin and commission director Harold "Buz" Olsen disagreed on whether Calgon was to pay for the construction of the effluent line should the grant not materialize.

Cost for the construction of the effluent line constitutes approximately half of $800,000. Genin claimed that the final contracts said nothing of the commission's obligation to complete the effluent line.

Olsen disagreed saying it was agreed upon during several meetings when terms of the Calgon contract were negotiated, that if the grant was denied, the commission would pick up the cost.

Genin insisted that the final contract read so that the financial obligation was Calgon's and not the commission's. Olsen insisted that the obligation still existed whether written or not.

"We made a gentleman's agreement," said Olsen. "If it was not included then it was an oversight."

The commissioners agreed with Olsen, saying the commission would stand by what they understood to be a condition of the contract.

A phone call to Pittsburg, clarified everything to the financial benefit of Hancock County when Genin reported back that Calgon would pay for the effluent line should the grant be denied.

Assuming the grant is awarded, the commission will match the monies for the infrastructure work with sale proceeds from the Calgon site and little else.

In other business: —the commission approved the cancellation of a lease with Frank Yates from 1972 for the use of a radio tower located at the Industrial Park.

—the commission authorized the reconveying of the property where the commission previously had offices on Hwy. 603 behind Waveland Resort Inn, back to the previous owners as stipulated in the deed;

—the commission approved payment of $5,832.62 in interest on an EDA loan used to purchase property in the Industrial Park;

—the commission approved the general and railroad operating dockets, the industrial park revenue docket, and the general obligation bond of 1989 and 1990.

The commission moved to go into executive session for the purpose of discussing a possible new prospect upon which no action was taken.

The board approved payment of $252.77, as a refund, to Margaret Hayden for having paid city taxes when she lived in the county and payment of $56.37 to David Grapusa for overpayment when he was incorrectly assessed.

Payment for emergency repairs to pump #1048 in the amount of $678.79 was approved.

Prilot informed the board that the lift station water pumps were now identified by a number in order to keep a record of repairs, thereby making it easier to know how much money is being spent on each piece.

Bills for the month of January were approved and Ward 3 alderman Curtis Colson remarked that comparing this particular month to previous months he sees evidence of "thoughtful spending" practices.

Payment of $589, to B&J Vacuum Services, Inc. was approved for eight hours of pumping sand out of sewer lines during rains.

The board approved two amendments to the animal ordinance. One amendment gave the shelter authorization to pick up stray livestock, and the other amendment required that all reptiles be caged when outside of the home.

Waveland Civic Association was granted a parade permit by the board for March 16, 1991 in celebration of St. Patrick's Day.

The resolution led to the introduction of the legislation currently under consideration.

However, Haas said, the district does not yet have a tentative date for beginning the natural gas service. Feasibility studies and permit applications to the Public Service Commission and other authorities would have to be completed before construction of gas lines could start, he explained.

"The board would need to see if the interest were even present for the service before any work could start," he commented.

said Parker and Corr entered the house and continued the investigation, and Parker found Kent Royal Taylor, 31, of 126 Ballentine Street, under a bed.

Aime said Taylor was wearing a sock on one hand; a plastic surgical-style glove on the other, a green jacket, brown sweater and blue baseball cap at the time of arrest.

Parker and Corr arrested Taylor, Aime continued, and placed him in the Hancock County jail, where he remains under $5,000 bond.

"The case is still under investigation. Further arrests are possible," Aime concluded.

He added that one Mardi Gras-related incident is also under investigation.

Aime said Robert Duvernay, 19, of Bay Side Apartment #33, was hospitalized Tuesday after being severely cut with a straight razor while standing at the corner of Sycamore and St. Francis after the Krewe of Real People parade.

According to Aime, Duvernay said he did not know the person who attacked him. Duvernay was cut on his wrists, ear, neck and back, Aime added.

Morning Stiffness: Arthritis Warning Sign #1

If your mornings start with stiffness in the joints that lasts more than 30 minutes, you may have a form of arthritis. And the earlier you seek treatment, the better the chances are that the arthritis can be arrested... before it does permanent damage.

There are literally dozens of different types of arthritis, many of which may start off with morning stiffness. In point of fact, however, different kinds of arthritis may lead to different kinds of damage.

The good news is that there are many who specialize in the treatment of these disorders. The next step is to find an M.D. degree, the next step is to find a program in either Internal Medicine or Rheumatology that lead to one of those areas. (One of those areas is Dr. Marielisa Sedrish, is board certified in both Medicine and Pediatrics). Once that period of training is successfully completed, the physician then begins an additional two to three year training program (called a "fellowship") in rheumatology, concentrating on the diagnosis and treatment of only the conditions known as arthritis and connective tissue diseases.

The end result of all these years of training is the ability to recognize what kind of arthritis the patient has. Dr. Marielisa's tests will pinpoint the kind of arthritis you have, and the kind of treatment that will be most successful for you.

Once an accurate diagnosis and treatment can be begun and often, with a regular family doctor. Then, working with a team, the Rheumatologist and your family doctor, your family practitioner can keep you on track.

If passed as it is currently written, the bill will take effect July 1, 1991.

In other legislative action, the House passed a bill limiting bingo operations to veterans and other non-profit organizations that are exempt under the law from taxation. Comptroller said the bill, which imposes strict controls on bingo operations, will go to the Senate for a vote.

Frankiewicz said the Marine Litter Act passed in the Senate, with enhanced punishments and a community service alternative.

The bill now goes to the House.

ST. ANN CHURCH NEWS

A thought for meditation from our pastor Father Justin Furman, ST.

"We should use the Cross to bless our minds when they lag in study. We should use it in our heart when it is restless, disturbed and tempted. It should be worked into our food. It should begin and end and champion our conversation and activities so that all things will be done in the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit; and in adoration, praise and thanksgiving to Him Who was wounded for our iniquities, Who was bruised for our sins, and Whose feet and hands were dug and Whose bones were numbered on that Cross."

—Father Thomas Augustin Judge, ST.

We'll Be There...

In a changing economy, the words strength and stability take on new meaning. Fortunately, these words have played an important part in guiding Hancock Bank through booms, busts, storms, depressions and two world wars. That's why generation after generation of families continue to put their faith and trust in Hancock Bank.

More Strength...

During 1990 when many financial institution's deposits were shrinking and earnings were "flat" or worse, Hancock Holding Company deposits grew by 43%. And, earnings per share increased.

Of equal interest, VERIBANC, Inc., an independent survey and rating firm in Massachusetts, twice listed Hancock Bank among the TOP FIFTY (50) SAFEST LARGE BANKS in the United States.

More Resources...

In terms of growth, the three mergers finalized in 1990 are certainly of major consequence.

The first occurred on June 4th, with the purchase of the $100,000,000 Metropolitan National Bank which greatly improved our ability to serve customers in the Biloxi, D'Iberville and Ocean Springs area.

On June 15th, our position in Pearl River County was further strengthened with the acquisition of the Poplarville Branch of The Unifirst Bank for Savings resulting in an additional $7,500,000 in deposits.

The bank's first out-of-state venture occurred on August 2nd, in a "clean bank" purchase of the $350,000,000 American Bank and Trust Company of Baton Rouge, Louisiana from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The favorable terms of the transaction enabled us to "pick and choose" many of the assets owned by the American Bank. We were able to select acceptable liabilities and adjust rates of interest that were "above the market."

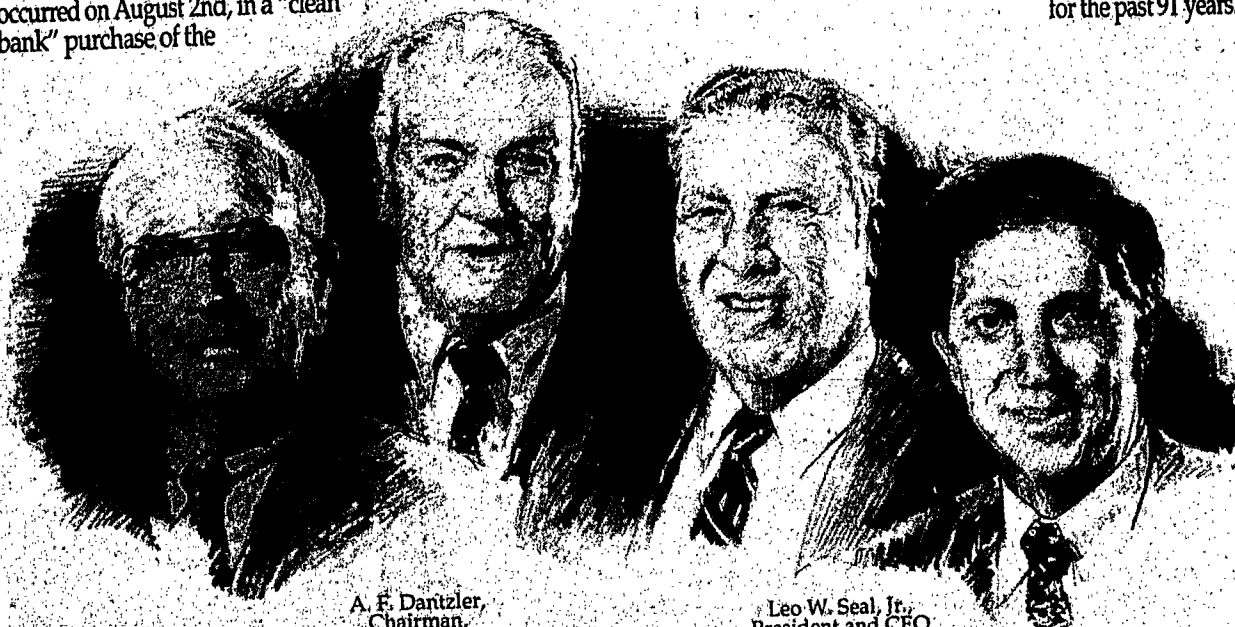

Of all the mergers during the past twenty years, this one by far, has the most favorable opportunities to effect significant "economies of scale", foremost in occupancy expense and data processing. This move also provided us with immediate access to an out-of-state market that is poised for growth.

We were also pleased that we experienced no significant customer loss during any of the mergers.

More Potential...

The fact that we were able to grow and remain strong under the prevailing conditions is due to the support of nearly 150,000 loyal customers and the untiring efforts of our staff and board members. It was your faith and trust that made 1990 a success and we thank you.

Finally, we look forward to 1991 with optimism and enthusiasm remembering that problems are only opportunities in disguise. At the same time, we pledge to you that we will continue to steer a conservative course as we have done for the past 91 years.

Persian Gulf oil damage examined

In 1984 "Nature" took viewers to the Persian Gulf in "Treasures of the Gulf" to view the inherently fragile ecology of the area which was threatened by the Iran/Iraq War.

In light of the current crisis in the Gulf and the massive oil spill—which the Pentagon calls an act of environmental terrorism—"Nature" returns to the area in a special updated broadcast airing at 7 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 17 on Mississippi ETV.

The broadcast will examine, among other things, the effect the recent oil spill is having on the environment. This updated program will include up-to-the-minute footage of the current devastation wrought on the Persian Gulf's wildlife.

Italian spinach egg rolls are high protein main dish

Did you ever look at something in a different way and see it in a new light? After serving Italian Spinach and Egg Rolls, lasagna noodles may never seem the same! In this dish, they're spread with a mild cheese, spinach and egg filling and rolled pinwheel-style.

Baked with your favorite spaghetti sauce, Italian Spinach and Egg Rolls offer elegant, individual servings of Mediterranean delight.

Eggs are another food product that has been re-examined. Research shows that eggs contain about 22 percent less cholesterol than previously thought. This is largely due to changes in hen feeding, breeding and care, as well as improved cholesterol measurement techniques.

Italian Spinach and Egg Rolls demonstrate how you can incorporate "today's egg" into your cooking. Eggs are a high-quality protein source and are low in saturated fat.

Lower-fat cheese and complex carbohydrate-rich foods, such as vegetables and pasta, make natural complements.

You can hard-cook the eggs for this eye-appealing entree ahead of time and keep them refrigerated, in their shells in the carton, for up to one week.

A fancy way to serve the baked rolls is to cut them in half lengthwise and place one piece flat on the plate in a pool of sauce, while standing the other half upright beside it.

ITALIAN SPINACH AND EGG ROLLS

6 servings
6 lasagna noodles
1 package (9 to 10 oz.) frozen chopped spinach, thawed, drained and pressed
1 cup (8 oz.) low-fat ricotta cheese
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded mozzarella cheese
4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
3 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup chopped green onions with tops
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 1/2 teaspoons Italian seasoning, crushed
1 teaspoon garlic salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 jar (14 oz.) spaghetti sauce
Grated Parmesan cheese, optional

Cook noodles according to package directions. Drain well. Set aside.

In medium bowl, stir together cheeses, hard-cooked eggs, beaten eggs, onions, lemon juice and seasonings.

Spread 1/2 of the spaghetti sauce over bottom of greased 11 x 7 x 1 1/2-inch baking dish. Spread a scant 2/3 cup of the cheese mixture over one reserved lasagna strip.

Starting at one end, roll up the strip. Place roll, seam side down, in baking dish. Repeat with remaining lasagna strips and cheese mixture. Top rolls with remaining sauce. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese, if desired.

Cover pan tightly with aluminum foil. Bake in preheated 350° F. oven for 20 minutes. Remove foil and bake an additional 15 to 20 minutes.

NICK'S HOUSE OF CATFISH

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire Caire

After the feasting comes the fasting, with the merry madness of Mardi Gras supplanted by the 40 days of Lent. Although Lenten rules and regulations have in many ways lessened, many of us still keep Lent in the old ways to some degree.

But that's little penance to us on the Gulf Coast, where delicious seafood is almost a way of life, and a delicious one at that! From childhood days onward, I looked to "fast days" with anticipation, for seafood gumbo or boiled shrimp or Shrimp Creole or crawfish or stuffed crabs and fish were often on the menu.

One of my favorites has long been "Truite Meuniere" - Trout Meuniere, that simple but superb classic of French cuisine, trout in parsley butter, accompanied by brabrant potatoes, crisp on the outside, but melting-smooth on the inside.

Catfish fillets are tasty cooked in this way, also, as I'm planning to do today. Here's:

TROUT MEUNIERE
(or CATFISH MEUNIERE)
1 1/2 to 2 1/2 lbs. fillets of trout or catfish
6 Tbsp. butter or margarine
Milk, flour, additional butter as needed
Lemon juice
Minced fresh parsley

Dip the fillets in milk, then in flour. Heat butter in a skillet or sauteuse (saute pan) - barely enough butter to film the bottom of the pan. Cook fish until light brown on the underside.

Then, using a spatula, test the fillets break up, turn and brown the other side. As soon as the fish flakes easily to the touch of a fork, or when a knife tip is lightly applied to the side, remove to a warm serving platter or plate, and sprinkle with the lemon juice and parsley.

At this point, you may drain the butter from the pan, replacing it with the six tablespoons of fresh butter. I prefer to swish a generous splash or so of white wine around in the skillet, scraping up every scrap of those tasty "burnings" at the bottom of the pan. Then I add the fresh butter, heating it up until barely brown. Pour over the fish and serve at once.

You may wish to add sliced almonds for "Trout Amandine" or pecans for "Trout Pecan" or white grapes for "Trout Veronique" - or whatever! Small chunks of potatoes, parboiled, then browned until crusty, go well with this dish, as does a simple classic green salad. (Six servings)

Sometimes, It's Important To See The World Through A Child's Eyes.

No one knows that better than Dr. Candace Collins. She's a Pediatric Ophthalmologist. So she specializes in the testing and treatment of children's eyes. And she does this from a child's point of view.

Dr. Collins knows that, to a child, a visit to the eye doctor can be a frightening experience. So she's done everything possible to change that.

Dr. Collins' waiting room is a playroom. And her eye exams are child's play. Because instead of looking at eye charts, your infant or toddler will watch a special puppet show. It's a process called Preferential Looking, developed specifically for pre-verbal children. To your older child, Dr. Collins' pediatric testing equipment resembles the sci-fi technology they've seen in movies. So eye exams are fun.

Your child's eyesight is a precious gift. Ensure it. With regular eye exams by Slidell's only Pediatric Ophthalmologist, Dr. Candace Collins. She could help your child see a world of difference.

Hull, Hutchison honored by Private School Assn.

The South Class 1-A District of the Mississippi Private School Association has selected Coast Episcopal High School basketball player senior Bruce Hull as Most Valuable Player and Raider Coach Jack Hutchison as Coach of the Year.

Hull made the first team All-District roster. Joining him on the squad are CEHS teammates freshman Tyrone Jones

Another honor for the Raiders is that they have been invited for the second year to the Small High School National Basketball Tournament in Dayton, Tenn., Feb. 27-March 2.

And whether it's your first baby, or your fourth, or any baby in between, every baby deserves special treatment. That's why our Center for Obstetrics & Gynecology offers Special Delivery, our "Special Addition" program providing extra-special treatment and a bunch of extra gifts for every newborn. And their families, too.

Maternity Fashion Show Luncheon.

Your Special Addition special treatment begins long before your newborn arrives. Because we pamper expectant parents first. We start with a Maternity Fashion Show and Luncheon for you, the mother-to-be. You'll enjoy lunch at one of Sildell's better restaurants, compliments of NorthShore. And fashions presented by a popular maternity shop.

Educational Programs.

Your entire family will benefit from our educational programs. Like Pre-Natal Education and Lamaze classes, designed to prepare you for childbirth. Sibling classes, which help big brothers and sisters adjust to the changes the new baby will bring. Pregnagym™, a medically-supervised pre- and post-natal exercise program conducted at NorthShore Health Center and offered free to those who deliver at NorthShore Regional Medical Center.

Peace of Mind.

About a month before your baby arrives, we'll provide you with a beeper, so you can alert your loved ones when you go into labor. It's part of our Peace of Mind Program™ designed to ease your worrying as the big day draws near. If it's after office hours, and you're not feeling quite right, you'll find peace of mind in our emergency room, where you can be examined by an emergency physician at no charge.

A Bundle of Gifts.

It's a special baby shower, and NorthShore is bringing all the gifts. We'll present your newborn with a portable crib. Stroller. Nursery monitor. And an infant safety seat. Of course, we don't want to forget you, the new mother. So we'll brighten your room with a bouquet of fresh flowers.

Mother's Helper.

This is one of our most popular extras. And one you're sure to love. It's the Mother's Helper Program™, giving you the extra help you need the week your baby arrives. A qualified Home Maker will come to your home to assist you with cooking, cleaning, and household chores, compliments of NorthShore. The Home Maker will be available five days, four hours per day. So you can relax a little bit.

Parents' Night Out.

As proud new parents, you deserve a night on the town. Celebrate in style with dinner at one of Sildell's better restaurants. NorthShore will make all the arrangements. And we'll pick up the tab. It's our Parents' Night Out Program™. Enjoy!

First in Healthcare.

At NorthShore Regional Medical Center, our top priority is to provide you everything you need in healthcare. That's why we were the first hospital in the area to offer low-cost package pricing for patients without maternity insurance. And no out-of-pocket expenses for maternity patients with insurance. We were also the first to offer the amenities that have made our maternity program so popular. Like maternity beepers and homemaker assistance.

We also know that all the extras in the world don't mean anything unless the care you and your newborn receive is first rate. So we're staffed with the best healthcare professionals available. And equipped with the finest technology.

Neonatal Intensive Care.

Our Neonatal Intensive Care Unit is state-of-the-art, and staffed with a neonatologist and neonatal subspecialists. To ensure that your newborn receives the finest care available, should complications arise. Additionally, both of our well baby nurseries offer your newborn the gentle, expert care of our neonatal nurses.

Your choice for childbirth.

Board of Commissioners

Leetown Fire Protection District

Poplarville, MS 39470

I have examined the statement of assets and fund balance-cash basis of the Leetown Fire Protection District as of September 30, 1990, and the related statement of revenues, expenditures, and changes in fund balance-cash basis for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures

as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

As described in the notes to the financial statements,

the District's policy is to prepare its financial statements on the basis of cash receipts and disbursements; consequently, revenues are recorded when received rather than when earned, and expenditures are recorded when incurred rather than when the obligation is incurred.

Accordingly, the financial statements are not intended to present financial position and results of operations in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly the assets and fund balance of the

Leetown Fire Protection District as of September 30,

1990, and its revenues, expenditures and changes in fund balance for the year then ended, prepared on the cash basis of accounting.

Here's A Special Security Blanket For Your Baby.

Dr. Marlene Buis, Neonatologist.

She's a special part of the nursery at NorthShore Regional Medical Center. And she's here to insure your peace of mind. With expert care. And extra attention. To make your baby's arrival safe and secure.

About six percent of all newborns need neonatal care. So chances are, your baby probably won't need to see Dr. Buis. But we're sure that's a chance you won't want to take.

As a Neonatologist, Dr. Buis has extensive training and experience in intensive care for newborns. As a member of our staff, she offers that care right here in our specially-equipped nursery. And our nurses provide careful, continuous monitoring, to make you feel even more secure. In fact, no other hospital on the north shore can offer your baby better care.

So when you're preparing for your baby's arrival, don't forget your security blanket. Dr. Marlene Buis. You may not need her. But isn't it nice to know she's here?

Catholic Schools Week at St. Clare

St. Clare School celebrated Catholic Schools Week with the theme, "A Kaleidoscope of People." On Sunday, a Family Mass was celebrated, followed by an open house at the school. On Monday, the theme of "Patterns of Growth" was brought to life through stories, poems and skits as eighth grade students put into words their memories of St. Clare School. "Patterns of Creativity" was Tuesday's theme, as relatives and friends shared their talents and related family history. On Wednesday, "Patterns of Diversity" was the theme that launched national Appreciation Day for Catholic Schools. The first nominees to the St. Clare Hall of Fame were honored as students and parents dined together. Thursday, the theme "Patterns of Harmony" helped students show appreciation of their world through global prayer. A silent prayer was offered through all parts of the world. Students shared "Patterns of Joy" on Friday, sharing surprises, sharing self and sharing with each friend. Students made a paper chain with the joys of St. Clare written on each link. "We are proud of our students who are the vision, growth, creativity and joy who make the life of St. Clare worthwhile," said principal Sister Jane.
